From the President

As the 2018 CREW Charlotte president, I am both honored and excited for the opportunity to build upon the great foundation laid by those who served before me. This annual change in leadership helps maintain the chapter's strength and progressiveness. To that end, my first order of business is to acknowledge and celebrate immediate past president, Jessica Rossi (Kimley-Horn) for her deferential guidance, constant support and quiet inspiration throughout 2017. I also thank and praise retiring board directors, Becky Lindahl (Katten Muchin Rosenman), Kim Marks (Progressive AE), Marie McLucas (Primax Properties), Scarlet Powell (Unified AV Systems) and Christie Zawtocki (Hart & Hickman) for their tireless dedication. The chapter is better for their service. Second, I welcome the very accomplished and enthusiastic 2018 Board of Directors and committee leadership teams. I look forward to

We're planning a year of relevant, thought-provoking programs that kicked off with our January luncheon featuring Wells Fargo economist Sarah House. In the wake of the #MeToo campaign denouncing sexual harassment, her discussion on gender pay inequity reaffirms the challenges facing women today. You can make a difference and stimulate communication around unconscious bias in the workplace. Help transform our industry by getting involved with CREW Charlotte. [Renew/activate your membership. CREW Charlotte Donates to UNC Charlotte

Foundation Proceeds from our 2017 fundraising efforts allowed us to donate $2,500 to UNC Charlotte's Foundation at the January luncheon. Part of this donation went towards an individual scholarship to Shannon Delowery who is currently enrolled in the Master of Science in Real Estate Program at UNC Charlotte and is also a CREW Charlotte member. Thank you to everyone who participated in this effort.

The 50 Most Influential Women event was created to spotlight and recognize the important role women play in the greater Charlotte region, in the economy and in
